

Future Broadcast Pioneers

a chapter of Broadcast Pioneers of Philadelphia

Who Are The Broadcast Pioneers Of Philadelphia?

Aside from serving as the parent organization of Future Broadcast Pioneers, the Broadcast Pioneers of Philadelphia is a non-profit organization that is dedicated to offering guidance and support for aspiring communication professionals.

Each of its members has at least 15 years of experience in many diverse communication fields. Some areas include station executives, advertising agency personnel, journalists, and production.

The Broadcast Pioneers of Philadelphia seek to educate communication students on current trends in the field while providing an opportunity for interaction with seasoned practitioners.

For more information on the Broadcast Pioneers of Philadelphia, please visit their website (<http://www.broadcastpioneers.com>).

Why Should You Become A Future Broadcast Pioneer?

- Gain internship opportunities at Philadelphia area television and radio stations
- Experience daily routines of the broadcast industry from the professionals' point of view
- Network with distinguished and experienced broadcast practitioners
- Priority registration and discounted rate at the Broadcast Pioneers of Philadelphia symposium
- Eligibility for scholarships awarded by Broadcast Pioneers of Philadelphia

“With their industry experience, our members offer support and expertise to students seeking learning opportunities in a variety of communication related fields.”

Bill Webber, President of Broadcast Pioneers of Philadelphia, speaks about just one of the many benefits that Broadcast Pioneers offers to its Future Broadcast Pioneers members.

Contact Information

Website - <http://studentpioneers.tripod.com>

E-Mail - studentpioneers@yahoo.com

Brian SaenzDeViteri - Founding President / Stephanie Tofani - Founding Vice-President